DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 9/21/05 is noted. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Drawings

3. Figures 6-8 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dicke (US 5,044,853). As to claims 1 and 3, Dicke discloses a helically threaded screw (Figures 1-3), wherein each of the threads has thread inclines comprising one or more recesses (13) and protrusions (12). As to claim 2, the recesses shown in Figures 2 and 3 have a polygonal cross-section opened at one side thereof.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dicke in view of Hansson et al. (US 5,938,444). Dicke discloses the helical screw as described above but fails to show both the recesses and protrusions shown have an arcuate cross section of identical curvature and length. Hansson, however, teaches a helically threaded implant which has threads that form recesses and protrusions that have an arcuate cross section of identical curvature and length (Figure 4). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to make the recesses and protrusions of the present invention have arcuate cross sections of identical curvature and length in order to avoid, or at least minimize, stress-concentrations in the bone tissue around the threads as taught by Hansson. As to claims 5 and 6, Hanson further discloses the use of micro-threads that have dimensions in the micrometer range (column 2, lines 24-28) in order for the threads to function as a screw, though not specifically a cross sectional area of 150  $\mu\text{m}$ . However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to make the implant with the recesses having such a cross sectional area since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Please refer to included form PTO-892 for all additional pertinent prior art related to helical dental implants.
